See It.....

The day began with a stunning sunrise over the dunes. Then came sights of vast plains, deep canyons and towering mountains. And now, as you walk along a windswept beach, ghost crabs scuttle between your feet, while seals frolic in the ocean. If you didn't see it yourself, you would never believe. It's Africa.

Hear It...

The mokoro excursion has left you sublimely relaxed. As you rest in your tree-house chalet to relive the day's events, the call of the wild begins. Hippos snort at the waterhole, elephants trumpet as they wander through camp, and lions roar throughout the night. It's the sound of nature, in perfect harmony. It's Africa.

Feel It...

He's so close you can feel his breath. As he drinks calmly, unaffected by your presence, your heart races. But it isn't fear - it's awe. After all, you've dreamt of an escape where you could touch the earth and feel the pulse of nature in its purest sense. You found it. It's Africa.
